A disease that knows no boundaries.

This is Shatterproof

We've seen firsthand how addiction touches each of our lives—through our own experiences, our loved ones, or those in our community. It's time to change the way we view and treat those struggling with Substance Use Disorder, a chronic and treatable medical condition. Shatterproof is working tirelessly to transform treatment through a human-first approach and to end the stigma against addiction by way of policy change, action, and education. Empowering our communities to find strength in recovery.

Shatterproof is creating systems changes that will protect our families for generations.

Generational Change Based on Metrics and Science

Transforming Treatment

We're changing the healthcare system by providing universal access to proven science-based treatment.

Ending The Stigma

We're shifting knowledge and attitudes to remove the stigma that surrounds SUD, a medical condition that impacts families and communities everywhere.

Educating & Empowering

We're providing important information and resources on the prevention, treatment, and recovery of SUD.

Throughout all our work, influencing policy change is a priority for us to create measurable progress.
